

THE CANDIDATES SPEAK

Fourteen candidates presented their qualifications in person, last night, at the Candidates Night of the League of Women Voters. One other presented hers by letter.

There were about 125 persons present to hear them. Mrs William Hooper, president, presided. Five candidates were present for the four posts in the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority.

Rene LaRivee, former Selectman, spoke of his extensive service to Wilmington, as an Air Raid Warden, as Director of Civil Defense, and as a Selectman and other posts. He was a candidate for re-election to the WRA he said because it was a project that could broaden the tax base. He feels that industry is important to the town.

Robert F Leahy, a member of the WRA told of his background as an electrical engineer with a degree in civil engineering, which, he felt was important to the Redevelopment Authority.

Raymond McNamara told of his membership in the Chamber of Commerce, which had sparked the town into starting the Eanes St. project. He felt that the board was working well, and that there should be no change in the existing board.

Joseph Sottile is secretary and Acting Director. There are no real problems he said, but a tremendous amount of work remains to be done. He hopes that the Planning Stage will be worked out by June 30th and that the Implementation Stage will then begin. If he is elected he will work as hard as possible in the execution of the plans.

Domenic Tutela said that he was an independent candidate, and not a member of any private interest group. He is a Chief Utility Engineer with a Boston consulting firm and a former member of the Wilmington Jaycees. He has had experience in affairs related to re-development authorities.

Mrs Tutela, who was in the audience, raised a question as to the status of the WRA. Sotile answered.

Mrs Tutela said she had been informed by Ed Mangini of the Mass Department of Commerce and Development that Wilmington was in seventh position in the state not second as had been stated in the press. She wanted to know how the local paper got the information.

Sotile said he had released it, and LaRive said that the Authority had done an excellent job.

Regional School

Frank McLean, the only candidate for the Regional Technical/Vocational School told of his background, and feels that the goal of the board is to model a realistic program for a vocational school in the light of the needs of the communities. As an example McLean told of students who wish to study to be auto mechanics and could not get a chance at such an education in the high schools of the communities.

He felt that the school will keep within the original cost estimate of $3.6 millions.

School Board

Arthur Brewster has been a resident of Wilmington for 14 years. He has a Master of Education degree, three years service on the School Committee and is a teacher in Burlington.

William Fay, 26 years old, is a teacher in Tewksbury High School and on the Little League Board of Directors, also a team leader. He emphasized 'a first class education to match first class abilities'. He was concerned about the rising number of pregnancies among high school students.

Diane Indimbo, lifelong resident of Wilmington, graduate of Lowell State College. Is running because 'she cares about children'. Feels that each individual child should be given the chance to develop his full potential, and that there should be a better communication between the schools and the school board. A study of the guidance program could have better results.

Mildred M. Wolfe has a BA degree from Sarah Lawrence. During college was a tutor and psychiatric aid. Has children of her own in school, and has moved about the country from one school to another, and felt that she was in a typical family. In favor of improving education in the early grades, and in better communications among the officials.

One Year Term

Robert Tadgell, appointed last September, thus possesses some 'on the job training'. Feels that his business experience in the banking field will be valuable to the school board. His primary reason is to upgrade the level of education in Wilmington.

A statement was read from M. Flora Kasabusk. The statement as read was brief. Mrs. Kasabusk is a graduate of Portia Law School, is an attorney and Notary. She wants to help stabilize the tax and school expenditures.

Questions

Roland Wood, from the floor, asked that each candidate express whether or not he is affiliated with a teacher's association, and if so, can one man serve two masters?

Brewster: Yes, on state, national and local levels. He feels that the collective bargaining is being done by reasonable people who are not concerned with vested interests.

Fay: Yes, and he urges that teaching salaries be kept competitive to assure the quality of the teachers.

Indimbo: No affiliation, but that possible conflict of interest depends on the man.

Tadgell: No. He has seen no indication in his experience in recent collective bargaining that the teachers on the board were giving special treatment to the bargaining teachers.

Selectmen

Lloyd Bender was the first to speak. He spoke of his service on the board, and that the first item was his proposal that since Civil Service had not been voted in, three years ago, that there should be a stable personnel and salary policy for town employees. This, he said, was accomplished.

He has been strongly in favor of industrial growth, and was behind the efforts to start the Eames St. Industrial program from the beginning. He cited other instances of growth in the past three years, Polygram Chemicals, Ling Electronics, Avco's and Sweetheart Plastic's expansions.

He told of his work in the fight against the Reading Municipal Light, and said that Wilmington was paying a disproportionately higher rate. Bender said they were not getting far, but that they would continue.

George Baylen, served on the Finance Committee for six years, as secretary, vice chairman and chairman. Thus he has a knowledge of the interaction of town boards. He believes in the Town Charter and is a believer in the Town Manager form of government. Said that the town has wasted roughly $500,000 in town managers, and compared it to a good school system with its superintendent. If the schools can do this, he argued, what is the matter in the relationship between the manager and the Selectmen?

In favor of industrial growth but without taking in 'any old industry.' In support of this he offered that the tax revenues for home do not pay school costs.

Felice Vitale said he was representing the people, and he is running for something, and is going to keep on fighting, and he invoked the Deity.

Two minutes were allowed for rebuttals. Bender said that his rebuttal would take about 15 minutes, there fore he would not speak.

Baylen made one rebuttal. As far as he knew, the town that had the power plant got the electricity cheaper, and that if we had one we would be doing it too, however he felt that we should continue to fight this thing with Reading Light.

Vitale said he would keep on trying.

A question from the floor asked Bender about the 'difficulty in keeping Town Managers'.

Bender said that since the resignation of the last town manager a minority of the Board of Selectmen had been slow in interviewing candidates for the Town Manager's job. At present there are about 140 vacancies in the country. The Town of Wilmington is seeking someone with about six years education and one year's experience, therefore seven years preparation, and this he said, was in the last ad, that carried a salary of $11,000.

He said that industry pays more and that is why there are so many vacancies. Bouchard left Wilmington, where he was getting $12,000 for a $13,000 job.

He feels that there should be a policy manual for the selectmen,

Selectmen's Meeting

The Board of Selectmen opened their meeting Monday night with an unanimous vote to send telegrams to Senator MacKenzie and Rep. Fred Cain to oppose House Bill 480 in the legislature, a bill that would have the state control the Welfare Services in the towns. The motion was made on suggestion of Chairman Bender.

Esso Oil had submitted an application for a gas station on Lowell Street, next to Mr. Joseph's. A public hearing was set for March 6th.

The event of the evening was dogs.

There were many citizens present from Suncrest Acres, in the dog hearing of 'Smith vs Johnson' Town Counsel Alan Altman, who was present, said that anyone who wished to give information would have to be sworn in as a witness, on the penalty of perjury.

Mrs. Smith was the first to speak. She had a letter from Dr. Harvey Skolnick, veterinarian, which was to explain the circumstances of a mistaken statement of two weeks ago, with regard to K9 training of the Johnson dog.

Bender requested that she repeat her story of two weeks ago, and she went into detail of the attacks made on her dog by Terry, the Johnson dog. The last attack, she said, almost cost the life of her dog, and the total care had cost her $90. Because of this she had requested restraint of the dog but there was no action.

Dr. Skolnick had written to the Dog Officer, Leo LeBlanc.

Miceli spoke up to say that a decision should be made only after seeing copies of the letters.

Bender asked her if she had seen the attacks, and Mrs. Smith said 'not all of them'. Niles asked her that if she did not see all the attacks, how did she know it was Terry. It was then Dick Johnson's turn to testify.

Johnson said he could understand the vet writing the letter, because the Smith dog was his patient. But how could he give an opinion on the viciousness of his dog, without seeing him, was beyond Johnson's understanding.

He offered to let the board interview his dog Terry, who was outside in a car. Niles graciously stated that he didn't feel like interviewing a dog.

Bender asked Mrs. Smith the time and date that she had seen the dog make the attack. The first instance, she said, was in the afternoon, the second in the morning, the third in the morning, and in January she had tried to air her dog, on a leash, and couldn't get out of the house at 11:30 pm.

Johnson, on inquiry, said that his dog was almost always in the house after 9 pm., and was not out in the afternoon. It was, he said, a spayed female, and he reviewed the habits of his family and the dog.

Niles wanted to know if Terry was chained. Johnson said that she had been since January 11th, when he first had heard of the difficulties. He couldn't recall her being loose, except for a run between supper and 9:30, and she wouldn't stay out after 9:30. Females, he said, are noted for staying at home.

Leo LeBlanc asked if could question the speakers. He made it clear he didn't intend to take sides.

He asked Mrs. Smith the color of the dog, at midnight. She said it was black. LeBlanc wanted to know 'black and what? Silver, or beige?' He went on to say that he had been after a dog for four days, or two weeks... a shepherd with no collar in the area.

Mrs. Smith said that a neighbor had called and told him, Mr. LeBlanc, that this dog was bothering me, that morning.

How did he know?

Johnson said his dog was on a chain all that time.

Niles wanted to know if the Johnson dog had fought with his dog or any dog on that day, and Johnson answered 'No'.

The matter of the Vet's letter was taken up. Town Manager Harold Melzar said that there was a second letter, which could be placed at the moment, which said that the doctor had admitted that he exceeded his powers and regretted it.

Mrs. Smith spoke up again to say that there was never any problem with a dog, except when the dogs were with the Johnson dog.

Niles asked about dates. Bender pointed out that Mrs. Smith's dates and the dates of Dr. Skolnick's treatments were not in accord.

Eloise Lacey, 93 A West Street, who lives in the 'rear' of both the Smith and the Johnson home, stated that on January 6th she had seen a dog fight. Mrs. Drew, questioning Mrs. Lacey, brought out that the lady had seen the fight through the windows of her home. Mrs. Lacey testified that she was not friends with either party, but that the Smith dog certainly took a beating, and that she was too frightened to go out. Her son had broken up the fight with snowballs.

Mrs. Lacey had called a neighbor and asked that she warn Mrs. Smith that the dog was coming home all blood.

There was much discussion, about how Mrs. Lacey could see so much from her window.

William Penney of Glenview Ave got up and testified for Mr. Johnson. He wanted to know if this kind of a fight was going on - what was his dog doing - refereeing?

Niles asked Penney what kind of a dog he had, and further established the distance from which Mrs. Lacey had seen the fight.

Mrs. Lacey allowed that it was approximately 300 feet.

Mrs. Drew then questioned and established that Mrs. Lacey could see this far.

Niles wanted to know what kind of a dog the Squibb family has. Mrs. Lamkin said it was a longhaired brown dog.

Mrs. Ellen Rowland then told the Selectmen that she did not know either party, and how she had seen the dogs fighting in the field near the Lacey home, and had called Mrs. Lacey. She lives at 3 Hilltop Road.

Mrs. Drew added that before the snowstorm she had seen three big shepherds in her back yard. LeBlanc named the owners, one of them being Cliff Knight Jr. of West Street, to whom the dog had been given because its former owner had been unable to handle it.

LeBlanc regaled the audience with a tale of how he and the dog had had a wrestling match in the Wilmington Plaza, because he had got out to get a cup of coffee and the dog wouldn't let him get back into his car, so he had to start with a bar, etc.

Niles asked Johnson if he had at any time seen his dog covered with blood. The answer was No.

Freeman Harvey, 2 Glenview Road volunteered that he had never had any trouble with the Johnson dog, and that it was chained a good deal of the time.

Bender asked if there were questions. Joseph Warren, 4 Glenview Road spoke up to say he wanted to corroborate the statement of Mr. Harvey. He had four children under six and a cat, all of whom played freely with the Johnson children, when they came over to his yard. Occasionally the dog was with them.

Max Palmer, 5 Glenview Road testified that no one in his home had ever had trouble with the Johnson dog, and this included the Palmer cat!

Isabelle Harvey, a neighbor of the Johnsons said that she knew the dog, and that there had never been any trouble or fights. It had been chained up for several weeks and was not out at night, because the Johnson family went to bed so early.

Opposite testimony was offered by Mrs. Marjorie Lamkin of Ridge Road, a neighbor of the Smith family. Mrs. Lamkin said she could not remember the date, but that sometime in October Terry, the Johnson dog had attacked Cleo on the front steps.

There was a chuckle when Bender asked LeBlanc if he knew the dog in that neighborhood who was supposed to have blunt teeth. from the biting of auto fenders. Everyone chuckled and volunteered that it was the Squibb dog, and Bender muttered something to the effect that 'it couldn't be him!'.

LeBlanc asked Town Counsel Altman about a law about dogs fighting, and personal property damage. Altman said there was such a law. The Board of Selectmen had a formal complaint, and they had to take action.

The hearing then closed. The parties were told that they would be notified of the action that the Selectmen took.

Bender then observed that the dates were not the same. Was the vicious, was it the proper dog who was involved in the fights on those dates? They should, he said, see a transcript of the hearing before they made any decision.

Niles asked Altman if there was a definition of 'vicious' disposition. Altman said No, he had looked it up. Bender wanted to know what the Selectmen proposed.

Miceli said they should maintain harmony, and they should instruct the Johnson family to let Terry out for a limited time during the day, and that he should be muzzled.

Mrs. Drew was willing to agree, if she knew that they were muzzling the right dog.

Miceli said there were witnesses Niles said the Penney statement was confusing - no barking. Witnesses were 200 - 300 feet away. The people with children playing directly adjacent to Johnson said that the dog was calm. The testimonies, he concluded, were contradictory.

Bender added that there were sufficient inconsistencies in the dates and testimonies to make a decision impossible. Further, he observed, they were inviting every dog, and cat, and canary fight in the Town of Wilmington to come before the board to have it settled. It was not a function of the board. If a child had been bitten, or a person attacked, it would be different.

Mr. Miceli said it could be a child.

Bender told the Selectmen that it was not practical to spend time on this. The problems of the community were more important. Dr. Skolnick had given testimony that the dog had been attacked.

Miceli: Viciously attacked.

Black said there was no certainty that it was Johnson's dog that was vicious.

Miceli made a motion to have Johnson's dog muzzled. No one seconded it, and there was repartee between Bender and Miceli as to politics.

Niles moved that the parties be notified that the majority of the board does not believe that an order should be issued.

The business turned to other matters.

Melzar told the Selectmen that the 'special' town employees (under the Conflict of Interest Law) should be defined. Altman advised that members of advisory committees should probably be 'special' employees. The motion was made and voted. It was also voted that the Memorial Day Committee, to be appointed by the Town Moderator, should be 'special' employees of the town.

Further business was postponed so that the Selectmen could get to the business of numbering the articles for the Annual Town Meeting Warrant.

Dog Obedience Classes sponsored by the Woburn YMCA

Mr. 'Tommy' Flynn, owner and operator of the Burlington Canine Country Club, will conduct a ten-week dog obedience school which will be sponsored by the Woburn Branch YMCA.

Mr. Flynn has specialized in breeding and training champion dogs since the early 1940's. He is a licensed American Kennel Club Handler and a member of the Professional Handlers Assoc. During the twenty plus years as a trainer-handler, Tommy has brought over one hundred dogs to championship titles. The first Lee Wood Memorial Trophy ever awarded in 1945 was won by Mr. Flynn. This is the highest obedience award in the East. It is a pleasure to welcome Mr. Flynn to our Staff.

How important is obedience training for your dog? If he is a thoroughbred and you want to show him, expert training is a necessity. He cannot win a championship unless he obeys. If he is an ordinary family pet, he still needs training. The poorly trained pet can be a source of real embarrassment when guests drop in. It is never too late to start. A dog three, four or even five years old can still be trained and should be trained. We hope you will let our expert, Tommy Flynn, work with you and your pet, whether a thoroughbred or mongrel. You will be glad you did.

Classes begin on Friday, Feb. 19, at the Woburn YMCA-7:30 pm, for beginners and 8:30 pm for advanced. Registrations must be made in advance and may be made by phone, 935-3270. Tuition is due on or before the starting date of the class. For further information, please contact the Woburn Branch YMCA, 553 Main St., Woburn.

Fred Cain Chairman of Committee on Local Affairs

House Speaker John F. X. Davoren last week named Representative Fred F. Cain of Wilmington to be chairman of the newly formed Joint Legislative Committee on Local Affairs.

It was the second important appointment for Mr. Cain in a week's time. He had already been appointed to the Municipal Problems Commission, and was a member of the Inter-State Cooperation Commission.

The Local Affairs Committee is to take over the responsibilities and duties of three former committees on Cities, Municipal Finance, and Towns.

The realignment of committee duties reflects the reorganization and streamlining of legislative committees into twenty-one Joint Standing Committees.

'The move by House Speaker Davoren will provide economy and efficiency in the operation of committee work for the Great and General Court' Rep. Cain said.

Describing the function of the new joint committee Cain said: 'The joint committee on Local Affairs will separate the enactable bills from those which cannot be enacted, with the help of legislative counsel, in harmony with the recently approved Municipal Home Rule Amendment to the State Constitution'.

'In other words my committee will decide whether matter brought before it by city and town officials are purely local in nature, or require legislative action'

Cain described this as a 'great time saving factor for all concerned'. He pointed out that the 'previous legislative log-jam of purely local matters will thus be eliminated.

Slides To Be Shown on Monday By Rev. John L. Dunn

The Rev. John L. Dunn of Freeport, Maine, will show slides and bring a message on his recent trip to Central America, in the First Baptist Church, Monday Feb 20, at 7:30.

In December of '66 Rev. and Mrs Dunn participated in a Preaching Mission to Central America under the leadership of Dr Edward Rapp of Home Mission Society of the American Baptist Convention. The two countries visited were El Salvador and Nicaragua. They were a week in each country. One day was spent with the American Baptist Missionaries visiting the mission schools and hospital. The day of sightseeing ended with introductions to native pastors. Members of the Preaching Mission spent the week living and working with native pastors in local churches. They learned native customs, ate native foods and enjoyed a week of warm Christian Fellowship.

Rev. Dunn says his concept of Latin America has completely changed. He found them to be industrious and ambitious, working very hard to improve their station in life. You are invited to hear and see this story in the Wilmington Baptist Church, Feb 20, at 7:30 pm.

The building association of Wil-

23rd, 1963. The Board of Direc-

Edward T. Driscoll, Allan Mac
Mullin, Daniel J. Lane, Paul H.
Niles, Joseph D. Harrington,
James W. Castine and Frederick

Plans for Maple Meadows were begun in early 1965. The plans were drawn by Paul H. Riley of Reading with final approval of the Board of Directors. The Dep't of Public Safety approved the plans in April, 1965.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held on April 19th, 1965. Alex Arsenault of the council dug the foundation hole, with Ed DeLoury backfilling the foundation when the time came. The concrete block walls were started in mid-summer but we had to call a halt until Labor Day weekend when the first floor bar joists arrived. These were put in place by the Baldwin
Steel Erection Co.

Members of the Council then started to work, bolting the 2" x 6" wood nailers to the bar joists, and applying 1" plyscord to these.
The complete job of supervision of the work was put in the hands of Bob Doucette, one of the members.

Members of the council then put good turnout and the work went like contractors started, electricians, plumbing, heating, etc. Their work progressed rapidly, and almost before we knew it we were installing the cherry paneling in the main hall, and the redwood in the lobby. Then the stairs were carpeted and the upstairs was just about complete. Brother Gil Massie built an amplifier and installed a speaker system in the main room.

We held a New Year's Eve Party at the Maple Meadows, and everyone had an excellent time, even if the toilet partitions were not in place. We had to put up a temporary partition in the ladies' room.

Permanent ones are in place now. There is a nice chandelier in the lobby, and the kitchen is complete. The formica cabinets, steam table, range, sink and floor were all installed in the past ten days.

The upstairs is now complete. We are ready for our Grand Opening, on the evening of February 21st, 1967.

Next Wednesday night Wilmington's hustling faculty basketball team will take on the Men's League All Stars in the 7 pm preliminary end of a holiday doubleheader.

Teachers Al Stone, Fran Nolan and company will be up against the likes of Dave Newhouse and Al MacDonald of the Broncos; Billy Ritchie, Don Bailey, Ron Wybert and Bruce Arnold of the Chargers; and Joe Dye, Art Brewster and Jeff Sheerin of the Bullets.

The stars coach is to be Dick Ethier of the League Champion Bedell Celtics, who will go against Burlington's best team, Jack's Esso, in the evenings second game. The Celtics have played their schedule through undefeated in Howie Lafaver's brand new adult division of the Town League.

In high school action last week the hockey team lost its only encounter to Billerica, at the Forum. The Wildcats just couldn't get started in this battle for second place and were shut out, 2-0.

The basketball team ran into the Merrimack Valley Conference's two top scorers and weren't able to cop with them. On Thursday Burlington's lanky Chris Nazzaro flipped in 24 points, leading his club's second half comeback. Bob Cassello had 21 points and Capt. Steve Donahue 13 for the Diceymen, who fell 65-60. On Friday second place Chelmsford's Pete Saulis hit for 38 big ones as the Lions overwhelmed a hustling WHS five, 77-62. Billy Walk hauled in 18 rebounds and Steve Donahue grabbed 17 in a tremendous effort, but Saulis was just too much.

Unreserved

In examining the progress of plans for a stadium in our sovereign Commonwealth we must conclude that the chances of Monte Green building one in our town are less than fair.

Being one of the 'assenting six hundred' at that fateful town meeting, at which Wilmington's typically miniscule fraction of population decided that the town would become a 'city', I would love to see Monte's dream come true. But let's be realistic.

Monte had something when he offered to build a privately financed, covered stadium-arena complex for $44 million, just after Boston had announced that such a project would cost nearly 100 megabucks at the South Station site. However Monte now has to resort to an open stadium plan with no arena at a tab of $20 million. This is a nice price cut, but also a substantial loss of attraction without the all-weather roof.

Shea Stadium, with the Mets and Jets breaking all sorts of attendance records, still loses $600,000 per annum.

Without animal racing and without a covered arena, which could accommodate the fifty odd huge conventions which couldn't come to Boston this year because of the inadequacy of such facilities as now exist, this complex is quite impractical.

Whereas Gov. Volpe and the most influential Bostonians WANT the Stadium in Boston, it is my contention that the Dom Dimaggio, Buck Dumaine, Bill Lincoln group will get the go ahead when the Stadium Commission presents its recommendation March 15. The capital and influence of these men is too hard to beat.

Next, Commissioner Ed Logue will use the B.R.A.'s urban renewal tool to evict as many 'unsightly' dwellers from a location as to accommodate a stadium site for the 'Little Professor' and his cohorts.

You're going to need the Luck of the Irish, Monte.

The loud mouth draft dodger wiped up the astro-turf with a helpless overgrown guitarist, because he had to fight the champ of the W.B.A.

Now, they want this 'minister' to take on the champ of the N.B.A. Every time Chamberlain opens his mouth he makes himself look like an overgrown Meadowlark Lemon. Wilt is the skinniest 280 pounder in the world, and if he thinks he can take a punch or two on part of his torso without cracking, he's dreaming. Clay would love it.

Another sellout, Another patsy. Another deferment.

If Wilt's so rough, why isn't he playing pro football? . . . Wilmington's Steve Phillips can be proud of his Golden Gloves performance . . . The AFL and NFL should stop interleague raiding and allow interleague trading . . . Can B. C. stop Jimmy Walker?

Letter

15 Marion Street
February 10, 1967

Dear Mr. Nellson

This town has needed a youth center of some sort. It had one a few years back, but it quickly folded. This year, St Thomas' Church in general and its CYO in particular, is beginning plans for a youth center in the basement of Villanova Hall recently vacated by the Knights of Columbus.

We realize that virtually none in town will show any substantial interest until we ourselves show some progress. For this reason, we are holding a raffle and giant penny sale on Feb 21.

In addition, we expect to devote much of the proceeds from our play INHERIT THE WIND and our future dances to finance the youth center. The proposed center, when finished would include at least two rooms furnished with a snack bar and TV, pool tables, ping-pong tables, pin ball machines, lounge chairs, car.

In short, it would contain everything to keep a teenager busy having fun. It would be open to an reliable student in town and it would be well chaperoned.

Mr Nellson, do you realize what this could mean to the town? As it is now, the youth of Wilmington has had occasional dance or sporting event followed by a lifeless trip to Friendly's and/or to trouble.

The parents (and students) have long complained about the seemingly boredom-motivated delinquency that occurs here. If this plan goes over, and there is no reason why it shouldn't, many of these problems would be eliminated. I am asking that the people understand how important this is. It is not just idle dreaming; a committee, headed by Mr. Paul Reitchel, is coordinating activities, including research and fund raising. A youth center is vital to this community.

Sincerely yours,
Wesley Kobylak

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208 Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or 658-4865 after five. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

Somebody goofed, and it was yours truly again. I took all the profit out of the KofC celebration. The tickets are $6.50 and not $5. Remember, and call Ernie Di Girolamo for yours, now.

Virginia DeVellis is in the Central Hospital, in Somerville, as per copy last week. Call St. Thomas if you are able to give blood.

Stella Allen of Taft Road called along with others. Thanks folks for the response to the books, etc. More about the boys in the Aleutians later, meanwhile Mrs Allen is glad to be home again after spending a long time in the hospital. She'll be glad to hear from her friends.

Dorothy Park has a correction. She says she doesn't take things out of paper packages to ship them overseas. But the stuff that's in glass jars, she puts into plastic bags. That saves on cost. And she found out, just this a.m. that Foster Balsar kames the five pound cans!

Don't forget that Roast Beef Dinner by the Women's Club for their scholarship fund. It will be on Thursday Feb. 23rd at the High School, and the tickets are $3.00. If you haven't been called, call Libby Sanborn on Church Street for yours!

The Walker School Mothers Club will be holding their fifth annual dance on Feb. 25 at 8 pm. It's getting to be a major event and the proceeds go to aid the school. The tickets are $2.75 per couple, and there is to be an orchestra.

That's one club that is on the ball. They furnish the rooms with books for the youngsters to read as extra-curricula; they put up a fence, they bought t.v.s for the rooms, etc. Let's support them. The dance is to be in the new KofC hall off School Street.

Mrs Balsar says she sent Gary some peanut butter, but she hasn't heard about him receiving it. She will tell us when and if it ever arrives.

Louise says that Gary's letters reach Wilmington in three days, and the Town Crier reaches him in seven days, but her letters don't reach him for eight or nine. Gary and a friend work in the post office and have to go 22 miles each day to the Headquarters PO in a truck to get the mail. They carry a pistol and a rifle.

He is really in an outpost - they don't even have a dining hall. So let's have some more of the books, folks - I hope the VFW is going to mail them. I understand the comrades voted at the last meeting to send the boys reading material, instead of membership information, so would could use the help in the mailing, fellow. How about it?

I understand that Gary lived on Crabmeat and Tuna while he was home.

Kathy Kalkanajian, up in Hathaway Acres, is home for a couple of days on crutches. She had a minor accident in school, the North School, and pulled a tendon on her leg. Kathy is a girl with a nice smile.

The Carter Lecture Committee will be presenting Captain Irving Johnson of the 'Yankee' on March 18th, in the Herbert C Barrows Auditorium. We are fortunate in Wilmington to have the Carter Fund which brings lecturers such as Capt. Johnson to our town. He was here in 1958 and was well liked by all. This time the trip will be a cruise up the Nile, with the Yankee. Plan to hear him folks it's for free and I've never attended a Carter Lecture that wasn't tops.

The Reverend John L. Dunn, (the father of Sylvia Gouldsbrough, here in town) is to be at the First Baptist Church Monday at 7:30 pm. He has just returned from a preaching mission in South America, and will give his impressions, with colored slides of Nicaragua and San Salvador. The Reverend hails from Freeport, Maine.

The Pioneer Girls of the Baptist Church will have a 'Pal Gal Party' Tuesday, at 7:30 pm. I would like to hear about this, afterwards, it sounds intriguing to me.

A reader has sent in a story with which I would like to finish up this week.

A certain party on Aldrich Road looked for a pool table that he could afford to by, for a few years. He just loves to play pool. He has played with relatives for years. He heard that the relatives wanted to sell their table, and he tried to buy it, but was told it was already sold... and, you know what? He got it for Christmas. His small buddies played Santa Claus with it.

Consequently he is the happiest fellow in the world and is behind the eightball every night... also... the same reader wants me to tell that lady on Burt Road to hurry up and have her baby... everybody is holding their breath!

Mangini compliments WRA

Ed Mangini, Chief Financial Officer of the Division of Urban Renewal of the Massachusetts Department of Commerce visited Wilmington Monday night, to see for himself how the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority was doing on the Eames Street Industrial Development project.

He listened to a complete review of the Planning Stage of the project, after which he complimented the Wilmington Authority on its progress.

'Wilmington is doing remarkably well' Mangini stated. 'I have never seen a town with so much interest.'

Woburn, he said, was probably 'as far advanced as Wilmington' but it had been 'working for a longer time on its program'. He knew of no other place working under state auspices where the program was as far advanced.

Mangini told the members of the WRA that he would like to see their planning work completed by the thirtieth of June. Planning advances for next year's budget have already been asked for, he said, in the state budget.

Told about the plans of the WRA to report to a Special Town Meeting, and their hope for authority to go into the execution stage of their project this summer, Mangini advised that the authority send a preliminary report to him, before the Special Town Meeting. This was agreeable to the members. They began to talk about the possibility of having the Special Town Meeting in July.

Reports

Mangini and the Authority listened to a number of reports during the evening.

Arthur Harding, Town Engineer, told of the work of surveying the land in the project. $3500 had been allocated. The Ken Miller Company of West Street had done the work under his direction. There was still a balance of $282.

Rene LaRivee, Authority Chairman, told Mangini that the acquisition process had been set by the firm of Cole-Layer-Trumble. The cost of the work was set at $8000.

Charles Kuklian, representing Anderson & Nichols of Causeway Street Boston, told the authority that exploratory test drilling of the 40 acre site would begin on February 16th. The firm of C. L. Guild of Braintree had been engaged for the project. About eighteen holes would be drilled, in the probing of the sub-structure of the project. The job is expected to be completed in about 18 days, and Kuklian told the WRA that he had already received a great deal of necessary data from the Town Engineer.

Ken Weiner of the firm of Candeb Fliessig and Associates, project planners, told of the two jobs now being done, one of them being the Environmental Survey, and the other being the Physical Layout of the project.

There had to be a decision, he said, on whether there will be one road, or more than one, into the 40 acres, and on the type of railroad siding. There could be a road down the center, with a turnaround at the end, near Cook Hill, or there could be other road plans.

The railroad siding could be for just one side of the project, that nearest the Boston & Maine, or there could be a siding that would cross the proposed road so that firms on the other side of the road could have railroad access.

He had had conversations about this with the other consultants, and with the Town Engineer, and had found them to be helpful. He hopes to submit his report in May.

The WRA voted to accept the bid of the firm of W H Ballard & Co. of Boston, for the Land Utilization and Marketability Study (LUMS). The price of $3600 had been submitted, with a report to be made in 120 days.

On motion of Robert Leahy and Raymond McNamara, the time for completion of the study was set at 90 days.

WOBURN OFFICE FOR SENATOR RON MacKENZIE

An office, to serve his constituents, was opened by Senator Ron MacKenzie, in Woburn, Sunday. It is located at 69A Pleasant St.

The office will be manned by volunteer workers and friends of the Senator, and will be open on Monday evening, from 7 to 9:30, on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 am to 2 pm, and on the first and third Saturdays of each month from 9:45 to 2:00 pm.

The headquarters telephone number is 935-4143, and MacKenzie's State House number is 727-2571. Senator MacKenzie gave two main reasons why the office was open - his dual role of being in the district, and in the State House necessitates the headquarters, he said, in order to implement his service to the 200,000 people in the seventh Middlesex District.

There is also the accessibility factor, in that the people should be provided with a consultation service for their legitimate problems that arise with State Agencies and other matters.

and said that one of the senior members of the board was to do some researching in this field, but that there had been little results.

As to what a Town Manager should be paid - it should be as much as his capabilities are worth.

Boylan said that at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology a Master's degree was worth $725 a month, and then he sat down.

Vitale said that the TM should be given a free hand.

Roland Wood said that Bender was the reason why Bouchard left and that Bender was the reason why Henneberger left, and now he understood that Bender was saying that he was dissatisfied with Melzar.

Bender said Bouchard had left Wilmington for a better job, that Henneberger had left for obvious reasons, and that he was not aware that he was displeased with Mr. Melzar.

In a long winded speech Vitale wanted to know why Bender had not answered the questions that had been asked on Dec. 16th about the tax program.

Bender reviewed the experiences of the meetings, and then summed by saying that there were lawyers present who could verify that neither the Board of Selectmen nor the Town Manager had any right to interfere with the Board of Assessors.

Boylan was asked from the floor as to what he thought was the answer to the 'Town Manager Problem'.

He felt that the manager should not be reviewed on a day to day basis, but on an overall basis, and that he should be his own boss. He should be able to work independently.

Vitale agreed with Boylen.

A question from the floor asked Boylen why he had left the Finance Committee.

He said it was in protest to Messrs Barry and Gubellini not being appointed.

Bender rebutted that no one person is indispensable to the town, and that people serving on the boards should realize this, that the functions of the town can continue without one particular person.
